Vision 2008 - A major new event for UK property market professionals

Successful provider of conveyancing services, My Home Move, is launching a brand new event for UK property market professionals. The event, which will be held on the 10th April 2008 at the spectacular RBS Williams F1 Conference Centre in Oxfordshire, includes a wide range of speakers who will examine trends in the property industry and provide hints and tips for surviving in an increasingly difficult market.

The conference will look at the property market from all aspects, giving attendees clarity and insight into what the future might hold for the industry and debating topics that are pertinent to all practitioners in the market today such as finance, the political agenda, legal issues and corporate social responsibility.

The event will also comprise of a 3-course charity dinner and drinks in aid of the Suzy Lamplugh Trust plus the opportunity to view the fantastic Williams F1 Grand Collection which houses over 40 of the team's seminal racing cars from over a quarter of a century of racing.

The speakers include:

- Dennis Turner, Chief Economist HSBC Bank;
- Bill McClintock, Chairman, Ombudsman for Estate Agents;
- Owen Inskip, Conservative Housing Review Body;
- Kay Allen, Diverse Advise;
- Kevin Smith, Operations Director, My Home Move;
- Bob Hay, Streets Ahead;
- Pierre Loombard, Suzy Lamplugh Trust; and
- Keynote speaker, Richard West, Formula One expert.

Stephen Hayter, sales and marketing director, My Home Move, said: “We see this as a great opportunity to bring together property professionals at a critical time. The property market is not as buoyant as it was a few years ago and everyone is working harder to achieve results. This conference will provide practitioners with the foresight and tools to combat the increasingly tough times we all find ourselves in.”

Notes to editors

Richard West, keynote speaker

Richard has held a number of senior commercial positions in Formula One and worked alongside some of the world’s greatest drivers including the likes of Damon Hill, Jacques Villeneuve and Michael Schumacher.

Dennis Turner, Chief Economist, HSBC Bank

A leading expert in the field of economics, Dennis regularly advises lending bankers on market trends at both a national and regional level, as well as across industries.

Bill McClintock, Chairman, Ombudsman for Estate Agents

Bill has built up a wealth of knowledge on the inner workings of the estate agency industry.

Owen Inskip, Conservative Housing Review Body

Owen is a leading authority on the UK’s residential market having sat on numerous committees over 15 years for the housing ministers of both main parties and trade bodies such as the RICS.

Kay Allen, Diverse Advise

Kay is recognised as one of the leading diversity and corporate social responsibility specialists in the UK, with over 16 years direct experience in Corporate Accountability.

Kevin Smith, Operations Director, MyHomeMove

Kevin has specialised in residential conveyancing for over 20 years, working with a number of leading solicitors and conveyancing practices before becoming one of the directors at MyHomeMove.

Bob Hay, Streets Ahead

Bob established Streets Ahead Estate Agents 18 years ago with partner Gary O’Hare and has since grown the company into one of the leading independents in the Croydon, Surrey & South East London area.

The Suzy Lamplugh Trust

In 1986 estate agent Suzy Lamplugh, a 25 year old estate agent disappeared after she went to meet an unknown client. So far her body has not been found. However, she has been presumed murdered and legally declared dead. Her parents, Paul and Diana Lamplugh, believed that Suzy, like most people at that time - and even now - was simply unaware of the possible dangers that individuals can face in society. Paul and Diana founded the Trust to highlight the risks people face and to offer advice, action and support to minimise those risks.
